

CINTA SENESE SALAMI

The Cinta Senese salami is a typical salami of the Tuscany region, produced using the meat of a particular breed of pigs, the Cinta Senese, in fact, so called for a strip that crosses their coat of different color, and seems to encase them as a belt.

It is a very tasty salami, with an intense flavor and definitely more expensive than other products normally present on the market.